Titel (dt.):

Titel (engl.): Constructive Journalism

Beschreibung:

Description:

The newsroom culture of international media is substantially influenced by the saying “bad news is good news”. However, there is an emerging domain within journalism that is slowly getting grounded within academia and involves the field of communication that is based around reporting solution-focused news – constructive journalism.

During the seminar, we will explore different approaches and initiatives of solution-oriented journalism and employ to our own stories.
